Hampton's Vegetable Tincture! THE GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE—READ! READ!

Joy to the World—Hope for the Afflicted—More Testimony from Home!

timony from Home!

Baltimore, Sept. 11, 1851.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray: 1 feel it a duty to make known the benefits I have derived from Dr. Hampton's Tincture. For a length of time I have been subject to great prostration of muscular power, and great debility of the nervous system, accompanied with palpitation and fluttering of the heart. I had such sudden attacks, that on one occasion I could's sarcely get home. I making mention of my case to a friend, he referred me to Joseph K. Stapleton, est, an old and highly respectable citizen of Baltimore, who had used the Tincture under similar circumstances. I called on Mr. Stapleton, and, after an interview of some minutes, I was fully satisfied of the medical virtues of the Tincture from the evidence before me, of his own person, who, for some time previous, indicated a failing state of health, but now a hearty, hale appearance, with the activity of youth. I immediately commenced using the Tincture, and, before I took the contents of one bottle, my strength was remewed, and I can walk as brisk, and am as active as I was twenty years ago. This Tincture is the army sections. I can walk as brisk, and am as active as I was twenty years ago. This Tineture is the grand restorative of the digestive organs, which when destroyed, the whole system is in a state of suffering.

I do assert that it is no humbug, but is, in reality, what t is represented to be by Dr. Hampton, the inventor.

No. 28 Second street, Baltin ASTOUNDING EFFECTS!!-THE WHOLE AFFLICTED WORLD READ!!-A LADY RESTORED AFTER TWO YEARS' SICKNESS!!!!

Nonfolk, Dec. 6, 1851. Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray: Hampton's Vegetable Tincture is certainly working miraculous results here, in the way of cures, but there seems to be a diffidence on the part of those cured to give a certificate, which, in justice to the afficiete, should not exist. I could mention a dozen cases of importance in which it has been successful in curing the worst kind of diseases; but it appears to cure them so easily, and its effects are so magical, they do not appear to be ableto realize it, though they are perfectly satisfied they are cured.

Greater by acceptance of the control duced to try the Tincture, and after taking one bottle she was enabled to sit up in her bed; and after taking the second bottle she was enabled to be up, stirring about the house—a thing she had not done for two years, as I was informed ber her husband, who called on me, in perfect cestacy, and said he had at last found the much-needed panacea. I think he will furnish you with a certificate of the strongest character. Another gentleman informed me that he had a very valuable negro woman so far gone by disease that he would have taken twenty-five dollars for her, but the first bottle was so effective that he felt confident of a perfect cure.

The Great Invention of the Age! Steam Supplanted! - Gas Triumphant!!

Steam Supplanted!—Gas Triumphant!!

THE first half of the nineteenth century will be recorded as the age of Steam. It has passed, and with it will pass the steam engine with the things that were.

The second half of the century will be known as commencing the age of Gas—an agent destined not only to light but to ENLIGHTEN the world. The age has now commenced, and with it is now introduced the Gas Engine.

Professor John C. F. Salomon, after twenty-six years of close observation upon the experiments of his own and of others in attempts to make the principle of the condensation of carbonic acid gas available as a mechanic motor, has perfected the same; and, having just received letters patent for his "Improved Carbonic Acid Engine," now offers to dispose of rights for the use thereof to the United States government, and to individuals or to companies the rights of States, counties, or cities.

dispose of rights for the use thereof to the United States government, and to individuals or to companies the rights of States, counties, or eities.

The immense saving of money and labor, and of human lives and suffering, secured by the use of this new motor, will inevitably insure its speedy adoption in all places where steam power is now used, and in thousands of other places where the great expense, bulk, and weight of the steam engine has precluded its use.

This new motor may be applied to all purposes as a propelling agent, from the single-horse power for the cotton-gin to the two thousand horse power for ocean steamers, with the expense less than that required by the steam engine, of boilers and furnaces, fuel and firemen, and of bulk and weight—100 tons weight sufficing for the same power of 1,000 tons of the steam engine.

These facts are established by the experimental engine of twenty-five (25) horse power, now "working well" at Cincinnati, as noticed in the following from the Cincinnati: "We are pleased to state that J. C. F. Salomon, late of this city, has received a patent for his motor of carbonic acid gas, in its application to an engine. The successful experiments of this invention were not long since given in the "Nonparell." The same gentleman has received another patent for the steering and propelling power."

Also, rights for the use of his "Improved Propelling and Steering Apparatus." one peculiar advantage of which gives the pilot such complete control of the vessel, independent of the engineer, that he can "right-about-face" a man-of-war in less time than is required to load her guns.

Also, rights for his "Improved Spring Saddle," for military and common purposes, designed for the greatest possible comfort of both horse and rider.

Any information in regard to the above invaluable inventions, and of obtaining rights, &c., may be promptly obtained by addressing "D. L. ELDER, Attorney and agent for the patentee, 7th st., epp. Odd-Fellows' Hall, Washington, D. C. Letter from Mr. Royse, of Attorney and agent for the patentee, 7th st., opp. Odd-Fellows' Hall, Washington, D. C. Letter from Mr. Royse, of New Albany, Indiana, inventor of a Rotary Plough.

Washington, January 30, 1852.

Mr. Elder—Sir: I cheerfully avail myself of this opportunity to give you a few brief statements in reference to Professor Salomon's New Mechanical Motor, as it is your request, as well as a duty I ove my country. The facts are the following, as near as I now recollect:

I arrived at Cincinnati on the 8th of October, 1851, and on the following day I called to see Professor Salomon's New Mechanical Motor, of which I had read accounts in the public papers. I was decirous to see the engine, from the fact that I had for some time previous been studying to make the same principle applicable as a motive power to machinery. I was astonished and delighted in witnessing the construction and operation of the engine. I saw my embodied idea before me more perfect than I had conceived.

I witnessed the operation for near an hour. It was uniform and perfect, and of sufficient power to lift a weight of 12,000 lbs. twenty-five times in a minute. This power was applied to turn the mechinery of the shop, and appeared to be equal to steam-engines commonly used in machine-shops. The whole length of chis engine is about twelve of fitteen feet, and I suppose its weight might be about five or six tons. The furnace is a small sheet-iron pan, the size of my hat, and held about a double-insulfied of charcoal. The machinery is not more complicated than that of the steam-engine, the varieties of construction and operation being the same. This was estimated to be a twenty-five horse-power engine, of which I have given you a brief description.

I am not pecuniarily interected in the success of the invention. I never expected to be called upon to make any statements in reference to it. I have had no previous acquaintance with Professor Salomon, and never saw him, to any knowledge, until I met him in this city, on yesterious.

Yours, respectfully.
